Ok, great. Good luck on the baby! That's fantastic.

Thank you,

Hi, Ashley --

I've cc:d Don Starr in to this... he'll have to make the introductions, as my wife is expecting a baby tomorrow. He'll also e-mail professor Newkirk if you haven't already.

Hope you enjoy it!

Hi Prof. Seife,

I'll be arriving at the j-school just before class starts on Monday. So, I don't think I'll have enough time to chat with Prof. Rosen prior to the class. I am a big fan of his work and follow him online. I wanted to make sure he knows who I am and is expecting me. Could you please introduce me and Prof. Rosen over email?

Thank you!
Ashley

Prof. Seife,

No worries. I have next Monday, Oct. 3rd off from work so I can sit in on the class then. I'm looking forward to meeting Prof. Rosen and hearing what he and students in the class think about online journalism. See you next week.

Thank you,
Ashley

Hi, Ashley --

My apologies -- I missed your note.

It's not too late to try for today if you're so inclined, otherwise next week would work, too.

Just let me know....

Prof. Seife,

I'm not sure if you've seen my last email or not. Obviously, I cannot attend a class today. So, I'm going to be getting my financial aid/fasfa stuff out of the way instead. Could we try again for next Monday, Oct. 3rd?

Thanks,
Ashley

Dear Prof. Seife,

Thank you very much for spending so much time to answer all my questions and walk me around the department yesterday. I was fascinated by all the equipment NYU has for students and I was happy to see so many young women my age at the J-school.

I would like to take you up on the offer to attend a class and meet Prof. Newkirk. The class I would like to attend is Digital Thinking, Monday at 3pm with Prof. Rosen. I look forward to meeting both of them.

Thank you!
Ashley

Dear Prof. Seife,

Dear Ashley,

I'm afraid that those office hours are incorrect. (Where did you find them?) I'm available from 1:30 to 3:30, though.

Happy to meet... just drop by. 20 Cooper Sq., #628.
